Binns Guilty in Bombing Case, Gets 5 Years

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Marco Antonio Binns Jr., a 30-year-old Negro was convicted yesterday of bombing a Negro student's home here last Feb. 9. A jury fixed his punishment at five years in prison and a $500 fine.

Binns was the second Negro convicted in the blast which caused major damage at the home of Carlotta Walls one of eight Negro students who attended integrated schools here last term. Herbert Odell Monts drew a five-year term on May 19.

Conviction of Binns left only one man to be tried of seven originally accused in connection with two integration-related bombings. Incidents here.

One white man pleaded guilty and three others were sentenced to three-year prison terms as a result of three dynamite blasts Sept. 7. One white man still is to be tried for these bombings.

J.D. Sims the man who pleaded guilty is serving a five-year term. All others remain free on bail while their cases are on appeal.

Binns denied from the witness stand yesterday that he had any part in the Walls bombing. The defense produced two Negro witnesses who said Binns was elsewhere when the blast occurred.

The state's case centered around an alleged confession by Binns made Feb. 18. Police officers testified he implicated Carlotta Walls owner of the bombed house and father of Carlotta in the confession.

Walls testified yesterday that he knew nothing about the blast. Binns reportedly had said Walls wanted his own house bombed "for insurance reasons."

"The blast caused minor damage. No one was hurt."

The all-white jury of 11 men and one woman deliberated only 30 minutes before convicting Binns and setting his punishment at the maximum for the offense.

Open House at Conway Plant

CONWAY, Ark. (AP) — Customade Products Corp., will hold an open house Sunday at its new plant here.

About 50 representatives of firms which distributed the plant's products toured the facility yesterday.

Customade, a subsidiary of Universal Match Corp., manufactures refrigerated cabinets in the local plant.

Good Roads Group to Organize

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Orval E. Faubus commented favorably today on a plan to organize an Arkansas Good Roads Assn.

Spokesmen for the proposed association have said the aim is to try to keep the state highway program out of politics.

An organizational meeting will be held here Monday.

Faubus said he thought the association would serve a useful purpose.

"It seems to have some fine people connected with it," the governor told newsmen.

He said some of the organization's backers had kept him advised of plans, but he has no connection with it.

Asked if he thought the new association would play a role in the governor's race Faubus said: "I don't think it will have anything to do with the campaign in any way."

W. W. Campbell of Forrest City heads a committee of civic leaders supporting the association.

Sponsors of the proposed organization said it would seek to achieve its aim "through preservation of the Mack-Blackwell Amendment or any other method."

The amendment adopted in 1952 was designed, among other things to limit a governor's control over the Highway Commission. However, because of a death and his election to three terms, Gov. Orval E. Faubus has now named four of the five highway commissioners.

Sponsors of the "Good Roads" group did not mention Faubus nor charges by some of his gubernatorial opponents that politics has crept back into the Highway Department during his administration.

$60,000 Loss in Nashville Shed Fire

NASHVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Fire leveled a huge produce packing shed one block from downtown Nashville yesterday, causing damage estimated at $60,000.

Fire units from Mineral Springs, De Queen and Hope helped Nashville firemen fight the flames for two hours before the fire was brought under control.

A feed mill and a warehouse on either side of the packing shed were damaged but not extensively. A car and a truck parked near the packing shed were destroyed.

Bob McClure, owner of the shed, estimated damage. He said the loss included machinery for processing Howard County's patch crop.

The Strategic Air Command reveals that Hope is located in an area likely to be affected by B-58 supersonic practice bombardment runs.

The flights will begin in a few weeks and it is possible that the B-58 flights may cause sonic booms," said General Thomas S. Power, SAC Commander. "but there is not cause for alarm."

The sonic booms — man-made thunderclaps caused by shock waves from planes that crack the sound barrier — are going to be heard more and more.

The B-58 is the fastest bomber in the world and is designed to carry nuclear weapons twice the speed of sound.

However, no weapons will be carried on these flights.

City Police report that a rock crashed the cab window of a truck at Arkadelphia last night and hit the driver behind the car.

He continued on to Hope where he "passed" out and had to be taken to a local hospital for treatment by an Oakcrest ambulance.

The driver was listed as Melvin Green of Sumnerdale, Ala. He was seriously hurt.

Members of Hope Shrine Club will journey to Shreveport in a police escorted caravan Sunday where they will attend church in a body.

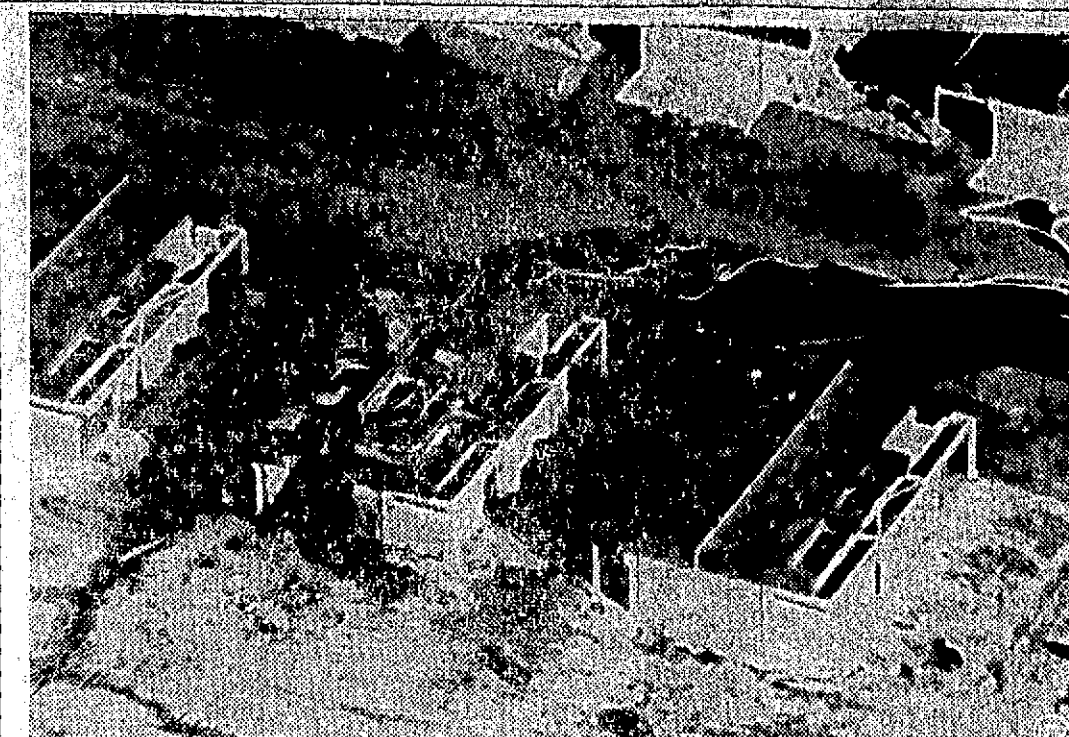

They will tour the Crippled Children's Hospital and have lunch at the Shreveport Temple.

The caravan forms about 8:30 a.m. and those planning to attend should contact Jack King or Webb Laster Jr., today.

An all-day singing and dinner on the ground will be held Sunday at Friendship, near Blevins.

Everybody is invited.

Hope sent a tanker truck to Nashville yesterday to help fight the fire that destroyed Bob McClure's packing shed.

State's Loss in Population Is 137,083

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Census Bureau has announced preliminary 1960 population figures which show Arkansas lost 137,083 residents during the past 10 years.

The bureau's 1960 figure for Arkansas was 1,772,428. This is 724 less than the state total figured by compiling congressional district reports in the state.

The percentage decrease since 1950 was 7.2.

Preliminary figures for four other states — West Virginia, Nevada, Oregon and Iowa — also were released yesterday.

West Virginia declined 7.9 per cent to 1,047,002. West Virginia is the only state besides Arkansas to show a population loss.

Nevada reported a whopping 75.8 per cent increase to 233,349. Oregon was up 15.4 per cent to 1,756,386 and Iowa was up 4.4 per cent to 2,736,408.

Live-Virus Polio Vaccine Favorable

WASHINGTON (AP) — Live virus polio vaccine showed good results during a Nicaraguan epidemic, it was reported here today.

A group of Soviet researchers also was on record favoring the American-made vaccine, along with criticism of the Salk killed-virus vaccine.

But the head of the Public Health Service said there still is not enough proof of the safety and effectiveness of the live-virus vaccine to license it for general use in the United States.

Surgeon General Leroy E. Burney said in an interview "I would love to be able in good conscience to license our live vaccine now as I feel it would be a boon to other nations, but I cannot."

"I couldn't clear the live-virus vaccine now because I do not feel there is proof of its complete safety and of its effectiveness, especially over long periods of time," he said.

The more favorable report on the live-virus type which is given orally came from Dr. Juan Jose Alcocer of the Pan American Health Organization. In a report prepared for the second international conference on live-virus polio vaccines, he said the live type had met with success in what he called its first evaluable challenge of a full-scale polio epidemic.

Dr. Alcocer said 49,585 children in Managua were given the oral vaccine after a 1958 epidemic. A new outbreak of polio in the city began late last year and carried over into 1960. The attack rate among the vaccinated was only one-fifth as great as among the nonvaccinated, he reported.

Mr. Key reported that Hempstead County now has a total of 663 Farm Bureau members or a little over 95% of the 1960 membership goal of 691.

U. S. Glider Pilot Released by Russians

LUEBCK, Germany (AP) — East German border police today gave three glider crewmen permission to drive a trailer into Communist territory to pick up American pilot Richard B. Schroeder of Toledo, Ohio, and his sailplane.

The crew left immediately for Kluetz, East Germany, where Schroeder landed by mistake Wednesday during long distance competition in the world gliding championships being held at Cologne.

A spokesman for the East German Foreign Ministry said Schroeder's crossing through the Iron Curtain was "not regarded as a serious case."

The 44-year-old flier from Toledo, Ohio, was met here at the border crossing into West Germany by his wife, Angie.

She had not been allowed by Communist authorities to accompany his trailer crew which had driven across the Iron Curtain border a few hours before to retrieve the sailplane and its pilot.

Schroeder's return to West Germany took less than 24 hours, usually it takes several days for sport and glider pilots to arrange their exit when they accidentally cross into East Germany.

The all - metal glider landed Schroeder 30 miles inside the East German border near Kluetz, not far from where an Air Force plane carrying nine persons was forced down by Soviet fighters just two weeks ago.

That group had also been released, together with their plane, with unusual ease and speed. They were held only four days compared to similar groups being detained in recent years as long as seven weeks.

The East German Communists said that Schroeder's "allegations" were checked before he was released.

This was not immediately explained. Presumably the Communists simply meant they checked out the glider pilot's story of getting lost and landing by mistake.

The East German border police had allowed the three glider crewmen to drive into East Germany and pick up Schroeder and his plane.

Tennessee Boy Spelling Champion

WASHINGTON (AP) — Henry Feldman, 13, Oak Ridge, Tenn., won the 1960 National Spelling Bee today. He had tried twice before.

Runner-up was Betty Jean Allgehl, 12, Norfolk, Va.

Henry clinched the title by the correct spelling of the word "eudemonic." The word means producing happiness.

Before that Henry had correctly spelled "velocify." Betty Jean missed that one by spelling it "velocite." That word means the lowest degree of desire, mere willingness.

Under the rules, the winner must spell correctly the word his opponent misses then spell one more word correctly. This Henry did after the two finalists had both slipped up on several words.

The new champion finished 20th last year. He was also in the national contest in 1958.

Three contestants fell victim to increasingly difficult words in today's first round as the 33rd annual spelling bee resumed.

Large Crowd Expected at Festival Here

A crowd of 5000 persons is expected to attend the Southwest Arkansas Poultry Festival to be held in Hope next week, B. N. Hott, chamber of commerce secretary, told the Kiwanis club yesterday at its luncheon meeting.

In a brief ceremony conducted by Kiwanian Jack Lowe, four new members were inducted into the club. They were: Fred Wren, Fred Gray, Jon Barabara and A. B. Mhoon.

Guests of the club: Jimmy Hazard of Shreveport and the Rev. Bill Harris, former pastor of the First Christian Church.

Judge Upholds KCS Assessment

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Circuit Judge J. Mitchell Cockrell has upheld a $4,780,645 assessment for 1959 against Arkansas properties of the Kansas City Southern Railroad.

Cockrell's order confirmed an assessment set Jan. 8 by the state Assessment, Coordination Division.

KCS had appealed its property assessment each of the past five years.

The copyright story, final in a series on spending by Congress members, and committees, says the hearings accounted for some of the spending by the un-American activities group in those years. It points out that the committee has the fourth largest investigative fund in the House this year—$327,000.

The authors, Don Oberdorfer and Walter Pincus, wrote about testimony by Irving Fishman, deputy collector of customs at the Port of New York, reporting that he was paid $90 per diem plus expenses for 10 separate appearances at hearings in the years covered by the story.

Fishman is in charge of interception of mail from abroad which the government believes is pornographic or is political propaganda.

In the hearings described in the story, a major feature of his appearance consisted of breaking the seals on mail bags from abroad and producing publications which he said contained propaganda. The article said the committee retreated the testimony on each occasion as new and revealing.

The article said "at the time Fishman was performing these tasks for the committee, he was also receiving his regular salary as an official of the U. S. customs Bureau."

The article said that when staff director Richard Arens was asked about Fishman's testimony he replied: "This is not a repetition. We are not putting on a show like a juggler."

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Mrs. Gladys Neal Brandon, former operator of Trinity Nursing Home, has filed a $500,000 libel suit against the Arkansas Gazette Publishing Co., in connection with press coverage of a governor's press conference.

Mrs. Brandon previously filed a $500,000 libel suit against the Arkansas Democrat on the same grounds.

Both newspapers carried accounts of the news conference at which Gov. Orval E. Faubus criticized operation of the Trinity Home. The Pulaski County Grand Jury later investigated the governor's charges but returned no indictments.

Mrs. Brandon has not been connected with Trinity since last year. The establishment now is operated as the Friendship Nursing Home.

Judge Dissolves Injunction

CLARKSVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Chancellor George O. Patterson has dissolved a temporary injunction against picketing the construction site of the Herbst Shoe Factory.

Officials of Local 107 of the Construction and Laborers Union said they will decide today whether picketing will be resumed.

Patterson issued the temporary injunction May 31 after the union picketed the plant site on grounds the contractor Baldwin and Co. of Little Rock was not paying union wages. Members of the local are not working on the project.

Ike Rejected Rockefeller Defense Plea

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower was reported today to have rejected in effect Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller's contention the nation's defense program is inadequate.

This representation as to the President's views was given newsmen by Republican congressional leaders after their regular weekly meeting with Eisenhower.

Rep. Charles A. Halleck of Indiana, the House GOP floor leader, said Eisenhower still believes the defense program is inadequate for the times.

Halleck and Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, the Senate Republican chief, said in reply to questions that there was discussion at their meeting with Eisenhower of the statement issued Wednesday by Rockefeller.

Rockefeller Asks Nixon to Take Stand

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller's blast at Vice President Richard M. Nixon brought charges of loyalty today from Democrats. From Nixon, there was for the moment only silence.

However, Nixon had two speeches and a news conference scheduled. Any of them could become a forum, if Nixon so chose, for a reply to the major challenge flung by the New York governor.

And Republican members of Congress from New York were reported to be preparing an indirect reply to the governor in the form of a statement of support for Nixon.

Congressional sources said the Rockefeller-Nixon issue was discussed at a dinner meeting of New York GOP members in honor of one of the delegation who is retiring from Congress, Rep. Dean P. Taylor.

The majority of those present, who included some long-time Nixon supporters, voted to draft and issue today a statement supporting the vice president, these sources said.

Nixon had a talk with GOP state chairman here scheduled in the early afternoon.

Later, he was to fly to Camden, N.J. He had a news conference scheduled there for 5 p.m. (EDT) preceding a long-planned speech at a dinner to honor, honoring Rep. William T. Cahill (R-N.J.).

On the Democratic side, Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas who hopes for his party's presidential nomination, commented that Rockefeller's attack on Nixon perhaps means that both party conventions "may be open after all."

"It looks like there's some life in the old elephant yet," he cracked.

When the Senate met, Sen. William Proxmire (D-Wis.) asked to have the text of Rockefeller's statement published in the Congressional Record. He told the Senate:

Tax Battle Shaping in the Senate

By JOE HALL

WASHINGTON (AP) — A rising state tax fight appeared in prospect today over a bill to extend for another year levies which bring in four billion dollars of annual revenue.

The measure, passed by the House Wednesday, also provides an eight billion dollar temporary increase in the national debt ceiling for the year ahead. This year's temporary 10 billion dollar increase expires June 30.

Several senators have announced plans to try to use the House bill as a vehicle for major tax changes, both to cut some revenues and also to pick up some.

Chairman Harry F. Byrd (D-Va) said his finance committee would meet soon on the legislation, but no date has been fixed. He plans to try to get the bill acted on there without public hearings.

Byrd is expected to seek to get the bill through without change, in line with Eisenhower's recommendations. But several other committee members are ready with amendments.

Under Senate rules, the bill will be wide open to amendment. The House considered the measure Wednesday under a rule barring any floor changes, but the members House before flying here and releasing his 2,700-word statement. The statement contained only praise for the President, but not that his service was ending. Rockefeller criticized the administration's handling of defense, education, medical and labor-management programs, and urged a reorganization of the whole government structure especially in view of the U2 spy plane incident.

There was no comment from Eisenhower or Nixon. Nixon conferred privately with the President Wednesday afternoon following a meeting of the National Security Council.

Rockefeller also announced he would head the New York state delegation to the GOP convention in Chicago.

The governor never mentioned Nixon by name. But he took direct aim at one of the vice president's major campaign topics — his role in settling the 1950 steel strike. Rockefeller termed the settlement a surrender to the forces of inflation.

In urging new approaches to foreign policy, Rockefeller said: "Our position in the world is dramatically weaker today than 15 years ago."

One month before the Geneva Disarmament Conference, Rockefeller declared, the United States had no prepared position. "The machinery of free government can and must be geared to do better than this," he added.

Opinions differed widely among Republicans as to the eventual effect on Rockefeller's political future.

But Thorton B. Morton, Republican national chairman, said, while he had not read the governor's statement, he would not object to a contest for the GOP nomination.

Paragould Votes on City Manager

PARAGOULD, Ark. (AP)—Paragould residents will vote Nov. 10 on whether to switch from mayor-council to city manager form of government.

Mayor Charley Woods issued a proclamation yesterday setting the election to coincide with the general election.

"I'm not taking sides in this matter," Wood said, "But I'll abide by the decision of the voters."

Four Arkansas cities — Little Rock, Hope, Camden and Brinkley — have changed to city manager government in the past three years.

Sees Okay to Tax Bill by Friday

By EDWIN B. HAAKINSON

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two senators who helped prepare a $40,166,097,000 defense money bill predicted today the Senate Appropriations Committee will approve it Friday without major changes.

That forecast came from Chairman Dennis Chavez (D-NM) and Sen. Leverett Saltonstall (R-Mass), a member of the Appropriations subcommittee. That group added $28 million dollars to the amount previously voted by the House.

Senate action on the bill is likely early next week, Chavez said. "The total reached in two days of voting by the Chavez subcommittee is 950 million dollars more than President Eisenhower's revised budget requested, but it added to the House bill a number of items originally asked by the administration and cut out by the House."

Saltonstall and other Navy-minded senators were happy about restoration of 293 million dollars to build another large attack aircraft carrier. The House deleted these funds.

At the same time the Senate group accepted 241 million added by the House to speed up construction of Polaris ballistic missile submarines and approved 42 million of a 100 million House increase to step up research and development for the Navy's anti-submarine warfare.

Biggest increase was restoration of $400 million the House slashed by an across-the-board 3 per cent reduction in funds for procurement of missiles, aircraft and other military hardware.

The Senate group also restored $294 million the House had denied for production of anti-aircraft Boremore missiles. And it added $75 million to this to complete two Pacific Northwest bases for the missiles.

It also added $285 million for the bers nevertheless showed considerable dissatisfaction with it by their votes.

The House agreed only by a 202-181 tally even to take up the bill, and passed it 223-174.

Many legislators said their "no" votes reflected a feeling that Congress this year should remove the 10 per cent federal tax on local telephone service and cut in half the 10 per cent passenger tax affecting train, bus and plane riders.

The Senate last year voted to kill both of these levies effective immediately. But in conference with the House, it was decided the effective date for wiping out the telephone tax would be made July 1, 1960, and the passenger levy would be reduced to 5 per cent also effective July 1 this year.

However, President Eisenhower asked this session for another year's extension of both levies at current rates, and the bill before the House Wednesday reflected his views.

Declines to Stay Receiver Order

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—U.S. District Judge J. Smith Henley has declined to stay his order setting aside $20,000 to pay costs of a receivership involving properties of George and Andrew Florida of Osceola.

Henley signed the order Monday. Thomas P. Florida, brother to Andrew D. George asked for a stay Tuesday. He said the money was pledged to pay some of his brother's debts and should be used for that purpose.

In turning down Thomas Florida's request yesterday, Henley said none of the money would be spent before June 3, so Florida would have time to appeal the ruling to the Eighth U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals.

George and Andrew Florida are defendants in an $11,780,925 income tax suit filed by the federal government. Beverly J. Lambert of West Memphis has been named to supervise the receivership pending litigation of the suit.

Last of Touhy Brothers Dead

CHICAGO (AP) — The last of "The Terrible" Touhy brothers is dead.

Thomas (Terrible Tommy) Touhy succumbed to cancer without realizing his hope to avenge the death of his brother—Roger "The Terrible" who was gunned down by assassins Dec. 16.

The Sun-Times disclosed his death today. The paper says he died May 16 at the home of relatives.

Tommy had been quoted as saying in the past:

"I don't want to end up full of bullet holes in the street. I want to die in bed with my family around me."

He died in bed but there were no brothers around him.

Roger was shot to death 23 days after leaving prison.

Two other brothers were killed during the Capone area gang wars. Another died in prison of tuberculosis. James, who ran a roadhouse, died of natural causes.

Tommy, released from prison in 1947 after serving 11 years for a $78,000 mail robbery, had said that "Rog got the blame for a lot of things I did. He even got my nickname, 'The Terrible,' pinned on him. He didn't deserve it. He was just a bootlegger."

Miss Marie Smith and Harold Harris are United in Marriage

On Tuesday night, June 7 the First Christian Church was the setting for the marriage of Miss Marie Smith to Harold Harris of Savannah, Tenn. Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Albert A. Smith. The bridegroom's father, the Rev. William E. Harris of Carnegie, Okla., performed the wedding assisted by the Rev. Clifton Bell. Mrs. W. E. She carried a white Bible topped with a cascade of fleur d'amour.

Vows for the double-ring ceremony were exchanged before an altar decorated with baskets of white gladiolus and jade fern. The maid of honor was Miss Janelle Robinson. With her dress of pink she wore a white bandana in her hair and carried a bouquet of pink feathered carnations.

Indians Barge Past Orioles in American

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Cleveland has barged past Baltimore into the American League lead, and Woody Held, the low-average better, has been the Indians' hitchhiker.

The power-packed shortstop, hitting .257 and bunched in an 8-for-15 slump 10 days ago, drove in six runs and brought home the clincher in both games for an 8-7 and 5-2 two-night sweep at Boston Wednesday night.

That made it four in a row and nine out of 12 for the Indians, who moved ahead of Baltimore by 10 percentage points. Detroit and Charlie Maxwell spanked the Baby Birds for the second night in a row, 2-0, in a double three-hit duel between Tiger Frank Lary and Jack Fisher.

The New York Yankees smacked four home runs behind Bob Turley's three-hit pitching and beat Chicago 6-0, moving within a half-game of the third place White Sox. Washington de-

Machen Wins Listless Match in 10

By JERRY LISKA
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP)—Eddie Machen, the No. 4 heavyweight contender, went through a lot of motion without much progress as he gained his 34th victory against two defeats Wednesday night.

Machen wanted to talk more about the June 20 title bout between Ingemar Johansson and Floyd Patterson than his own Jim McManus and Bill Doly Altonzo Johnson in the Chicago Stadium.

The nationally televised bout produced a lot of swinging and swaying, but nobody came close to being hurt.

"He just clinched a lot and was going away quite a bit," said feared Kansas City 8-1.

In the National League, Pittsburgh beat the Chicago Cubs 5-3 and kept a one-game edge over second place San Francisco. The Giants defeated Cincinnati 2-1.

Los Angeles cooled off third place Milwaukee 4-1. Philadelphia beat St. Louis 5-3.

Cleveland made it 5-0 over last place Boston on Held's grand slam, his 11th home run, in the sixth-inning of the nightcap.

Gary Bell (4-1), who had lost three in a row, won the second game with a three-hitter, blanking the Red Sox on one hit until the seventh inning. Jim Perry (6-2) won his fifth in a row in the opener, although giving up Pumpsie Green's first major league slam and solo homers by Ed Sadowski and Pete Runnels.

Johnny Klippstein saved it with three innings of hitless relief.

Reliever Mike Fornieles (2-1) lost the opener and Dave Hillman (0-2), who also gave up a home run by Jimmy Piersall, dropped the second game.

All of the Yankees' runs scored on the homers. Mickey Mantle hit two, for a season total of 10 and a career total of 270. Roger Maris, the major league leader, matched his 1959 total with No. 16, and Hector Lopez belted his third, Turley (3-1) gave up nothing but singles. Bob Shaw (5-5) lost for the first time in four career decisions against New York.

Three runs in the eighth, triggered by Julio Becquer's two-run single, did it for the Senators and winning reliever Don Lee (2-1). Trowbridge (1-2) was the loser in relief.

Machen, who wrestled Johnson to the canvas five times but never could land a solid punch.

Referee Weissman called it for Machen 49-45, while the two judges, Jim McManus and Bill Doly, voted for Machen 47-45 and 47-44 respectively. The AP card had Machen ahead 49-42.

Machen, from Portland, Ore., weighed 195, and Johnson, from Rankin, Pa., was 189, for the bout which attracted 720 and a net gate of $1,050.

Machen, who was knocked out by Johnson in the first round in 1958, said he hoped to get his next shot against Sonny Liston, No. 1 contender.

It was Johnson's sixth defeat against 18 victories.

Education Bill Is Discussed
WASHINGTON (AP)—By unanimous consent, the Senate today sent a federal aid to education bill to a Senate-House committee to iron out differences.

The Senate previously had passed a two-year $1,000,000,000 measure carrying grants for school construction and teachers' salaries.

The House passed a four-year $1,300,000,000 program authorizing the use of federal funds only for school construction.

Williams Is Still Haunting Those Braves

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Stan Williams, the big right-handed reminder of last year's pennant failure still is haunting those Milwaukee Braves.

It was Williams who beat the Braves with three innings of hitless relief in the final game of the playoff for the 1959 National League flag. And in his first run-in with Milwaukee since then, the 6-foot-4, 230-pounder beat the Braves 4-1 Wednesday night, choking off their spurt toward the top with the help of a pair of two-run, eight-inning homers by Wally Moon and Duke Snider.

The third place Braves dropped 4 1/2 games behind league-leading Pittsburgh again. The Pirates won 5-3 at Chicago and retained a one-game edge over second place San Francisco. The Giants, calling on Sam (Avaliable) Jones for the first time in relief this season, hung on with a 2-1 victory over Cincinnati.

Philadelphia defeated St. Louis 5-4.

In the American League, Cleveland swept a two-night pair at Boston, 8-7 and 5-2, and took over first place by 10 percentage points over Baltimore. The Orioles dropped to second with their second straight loss to Detroit, this one 2-0. The New York Yankees beat Chicago's White Sox 6-0 behind Bob Turley's three-hit pitching. Washington defeated Kansas City 8-6.

The Dodgers, blanked on five hits for seven innings by Carl Willey, tied St. Louis for fifth place as Moon unloaded against losing reliever Don McMahon (1-0) and Snider tagged Bob Rush.

Williams allowed just three hits, two by Wes Covington, before being lifted for a pinch-hitter in the eighth. He walked none and struck out seven giving up the run in the first inning on Billy Brulon's double and Ed Mathews' one-out sacrifice fly.

The Pirates beat the Cubs on Dick Stuart's two-run homer in the fifth. Wilmer (Vinegar Bend) Mizell (2-3) had a three-hit shut-out for six innings, then needed Elroy Face's superb relief to win. Bob Anderson (2-2) was the loser.

All the scoring came in the ninth at San Francisco, and all three runs were unearned. Ed Bresnau's two-out, two-run single did it for the Giants, who had been held to four hits for eight innings by loser Jim O'Toole (4-5). Cincinnati, hitless for 7 1/3 innings against Mike McCormick, scored on singles by Billy Martin and Eddie Kasko and catcher Bob Schmidt's throwing error. Jones (7-4) struck out Frank Robinson and Gus Bell to end the uprising.

A two-run double by pinch-hitter Tony Curry cracked a 3-1 tie in the fifth for the Phils, handing Lindy McDaniel (3-3) his first loss as a reliever. John Buzhardt (2-4) won it.

HARD PURSUED

BY NORMAN A. FOX

Chapter 22
Spencer Rigby, watching Sam Tull, saddle up and ride from Hatchet's camp in Timmerman Gulch, had stood troubled and thoughtful after the timber had swallowed the man.
Partners, Tull had said in that little talk they'd just had, "but what he really remembered was Tull's getting mouthy about his wanting to put a rope around Duke Jordan's neck."
He turned to Abe Lofstrum, who was fixing a bed. "Saddle up, you two," he said. "Lofstrum, get a surprise. Get at it, man!" Rigby snapped, and Abe moved to obey.

Big Rufe York sat cross-legged by the dying fire, smoking a last cigarette. Rigby walked to him and nodded in the direction Tull had taken. "I'm going for a little ride, Rufe. You'll be in charge till I get back."

York grunted, his face impassive. Rigby stood waiting till Lofstrum brought up his saddled horse. He mounted and lifted a hand. Rufe and Abe nodded.
He made the right-hand turn from the gulch onto the old road and dropped downhill, knowing that Tull would be heading back to the Brewster place.
Then, in a stretch where the road dropped straight before him, Buckner finally walked away.

And Tull, on his hands and knees, was suddenly bringing up a flaming gun. Buckner's horse bolted, heading downhill.
Tull got to his feet, flourishing the gun. He took a staggering step or two and almost fell. He looked after Buckner and raised the gun, but Buckner was already out of range.
Rigby jogged his horse now and rode on downward. He saw Tull look up at his coming, and he raised his free hand and shouted, "Sam, it's me! I got worried about you and followed. He came to within a dozen feet of Tull. "I saw the last of it, Sam. Too bad I didn't get here sooner."

Tull didn't bother to reply. His face was stone, except for the eyes, where hate dwelt. He glared in the direction Buckner had gone. He eased his gun, lurched to his horse, galloped up the reins, and set a foot in the left stirrup. He had his back to Rigby, and in Rigby there was no conscious prompting. He brought out his own gun and shot Tull between the shoulder blades.

The grass-filled tick rustled beneath him as Virgil McQueen rolled over upon that makeshift mattress and tried to sleep. Must be an hour now, since he had bedded down. Darkness lay thick in the Polbrook bunkhouse.
He fretted, feeling that he should be up and riding, and come to think about it, he could and would, come morning. All he'd promised was that he wouldn't follow Dorcas. Nothing wrong, though, with his getting into the hills and sniffing for signs against the possibility of Dorcas falling in her persuasion.

Where to start? He lay thinking of Table Mountain and all the lesser Carniels, and even Table could be a month's work, with its mighty slopes, its benches, its gulches.
He thought of Duke the man and of Duke the boy, working backward in mind across all the years he had known Duke. He had to chuckle, remembering the unlatched basement window in the courthouse and how it had stayed unlatched. Quite a pair of young scamps, Duke and Ry Buckner. Not mean, not vicious, just wild, with the wildness multiplied by their being paired. Real Injun blood brothers.

Something old Doc Fargo had said years back. He struggled to remember exactly what Doc had told him. "Cut themselves with jackknives, the young fools. Of course they didn't much more than scratch themselves. Sheriff, but they could have got into real trouble. Might have bled to death, miles from town, up there in a cave at the head of Timmerman. They were looking pretty peaked and scared when they got here to me."

"A cave up Timmerman?" he said. "I don't seem to recollect such, Doc."
"It's pretty much out of the way, Sheriff. I gather those kids found it a few summers ago and play there regularly."

The cave could be worth looking into. But it wouldn't make much sense to go prowling the darkness, and he reckoned he could use some rest first.

Tall Tinkling Iced Coffee For That Fresh-As-a-Daisy Feeling

When daisies bloom along country lanes — as well as in flower baskets on shady patios — then you can be sure it's summer! Time to slow down, take it easy, cool off. Time for a platter of cookies and a tall, frothy pitcher of iced coffee.

There are several easy ways to make tall-flavored iced coffee. One excellent way is by brewing coffee extra-strong and pouring it hot into ice-filled glasses. To brew coffee for this method, use half a measuring cup of water to one standard coffee measure (or two level measuring tablespoons) of coffee for each serving. These proportions apply no matter which brewing method you use.
Effortless Iced Coffee
At its best, iced coffee should be the same strength as hot coffee. An effortless way to make it is this: Brew extra-breakfast coffee and cool it. Freeze it into coffee ice cubes, turning temperature control to coldest point for quick freezing. Then make iced coffee anytime by simply pouring regular strength coffee into glasses filled to the top with coffee ice cubes. You can be sure your iced coffee will be all coffee, through and through!
One of the quickest and best ways to produce a glass of iced coffee in a moment is by using instant coffee. In the bottom of a tall glass, put twice as much instant coffee as you would use for a cup. Dissolve it in a little cold water. Fill the glass to the top with ice cubes, add more water and stir thoroughly. Drink and enjoy!
The Added Touch
You may enjoy your iced coffee with cream and a touch of sweetening. The cream should be the best you can provide — good cream really makes a difference in iced coffee. The best way to sweeten iced coffee is with simple syrup — equal amounts of sugar and water, stirred and boiled for seven minutes and cooled. The syrup keeps indefinitely in the refrigerator.
These cookies are just right with iced coffee.
Daisy Cookies
1 cup soft butter or margarine
2 1/2 cups sifted, enriched flour
Mix butter and sugar together thoroughly. Stir in flour. Mix thoroughly. Chill dough. Roll out 1/4 to 1/2-inch thick. Cut with floured daisy cutter. Place on ungreased baking sheet. Place semi-sweet chocolate piece in center of each cookie. Bake in slow oven, 300°, 20 to 25 minutes. Yield: 1 dozen cookies.

Many Japs Not Happy With Treaty

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP) — "Thousands of Japanese threaten to demonstrate against President Eisenhower if he goes to Japan June 10. He says he will go. Some members of Congress think he shouldn't."

Why the visit? Why the protest? The visit can be explained first and easiest. The President will leave Sunday on what has been billed as a goodwill visit to a number of Far Eastern countries, including Japan.

Just how much good is done by these goodwill visits by heads of state is questionable. Nevertheless, they have become almost a custom in the past few years.

The date of Eisenhower's arrival in Japan has significance. June 10 is the date when Japanese ratification of the new American-Japanese defense treaty goes into effect.

It's right on this point—the defense treaty—that the protest demonstration comes into the picture. Its roots go away back.

After the war this country not only helped the defeated and disarmed Japan get back on its feet economically but started it on a new political course of democratic government.

Still, this country kept its troops in Japan as an occupation force. In 1951 Japan, which still had no defense force of its own, agreed with this country to a defense treaty which many Japanese felt was an insult.

They made these complaints. It allowed the United States to keep its forces, number unlimited, in and around Japan indefinitely. It did not actually require the United States to defend Japan. It let this country use Japanese bases from which to dispatch troops to any far East area; it left this country free to introduce any kind of weapons, including nuclear ones, into Japan; it gave this country a veto over any Japanese desire to let a third power have bases in Japan; there was no provision in the treaty for ever ending it; and it permitted U.S. forces to crush internal disorder in Japan, such as a Communist uprising.

Since then this country—because of the peace treaty—has let the Japanese reform. They have now 1,050,000 ground troops, 27,000 men in their air force, and 23,000 men in the navy.

Finally, to satisfy the Japanese, this country agreed to a new defense treaty which was signed Jan. 10, 1960.

Under it the United States no longer has the right to crush an internal disorder agrees for the first time in writing to come to Japan's defense in case of attack; agrees to consult with the Japanese government before making any change in its armed forces, weapons or bases; agrees to consult with the Japanese before deploying Japan-based American forces anywhere in Asia; gives up the veto power over letting a third nation have bases in Japan; and the treaty can be ended in 11 years, although if neither side wishes to end it, it can go on indefinitely.

There was widespread Japanese opposition to this treaty, and protest was made to the government of Prime Minister Nobusuke Kishi whose Liberal Democrats had an overwhelming majority in Parliament. He rammed it through.

This infuriated the outnumbered Socialists. They were and are a powerful force against the treaty. Then there were Japanese Communists who followed the line of the Soviet Union and Red China in denouncing the treaty.

Added to these are Japanese neutrals who fear military entanglement with the United States may get Japan involved in a Far Eastern war.

Then there are the Japanese students—sometimes called radical, sometimes liberal—who oppose militarism, fear a new kind of colonialism, this time by America; or believe the wave of the future in Asia lies with communism and Red China.

All these forces—Socialist, Communist, Liberal, radical, neutral—have combined to oppose the treaty and therefore Eisenhower's visit.

On top of all this most Japanese papers, while not necessarily opposed to the treaty, feel its ratification should not have been hurried. Many of them are demanding Kishi's resignation and new

This Film Producer Is Different

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP)—Billy Wilder is different from most Hollywood producers. He is smart enough to make up his own wisecracks.

Commenting on the reported rift between him and Marilyn Monroe, he remarked: "She does not need acting lessons. She's a fine actress already. What she needs is to go to a college where they give courses in advanced punctuality."

"I hate people who aren't on time. I came from a long line of railroad engineers," he said.

But Wilder, who helped bring Miss Monroe's career to a peak in "Some Like It Hot," is sure the two will work together again when they find the right script.

Billy is rapidly becoming a film legend as a writer, director and producer. He has been nominated for 18 Academy awards, actually won three Oscars.

"I was robbed 15 times," he smiled.

Wilder, an ex-Austrian newspaperman, has had a hand in scores of pictures.

Billy, who looks like a near-sighted banister rooster with a convict hair cut, is driven by a fury of creative genius that is rescued from obsession by a saving sense of dry humor. He is one of the most popular figures in the industry—and one of the most respected.

He paces like a hungry leopard while he works, smokes four packs of cigarettes a day.

"It's not good for me, perhaps," he sighed, then added: "But I have a theory about it. I feel that if I gave up smoking and five or six years later was hit by a car, and lay dying in a gutter, I'd hate myself for having lost so much joy in my last years."

Billy, ebullient by nature, is optimistic about Hollywood's future. "We're merely separating the men from the boys, and the men will survive to make fewer, but better pictures," he said. "What the industry really needs is more serious film fans. It's up to them. If they support good pictures, then the industry will invest the money to make them."

"One cruel thing about turning out a bad movie," he observed, "is that it goes on forever. A bad

George Is Doing Fine on His Own

NEW YORK (AP)—George Burris and Gracie Allen have been entertaining us for more than 30 years so most of us wondered how George could possibly get along alone when Gracie retired. Well, he's doing just fine as a single, as evidenced by his NBC special Tuesday night.

This old professional just keeps right on playing straight man. But he now surrounds himself with friend and funnyman Jack Benny, beauties like dancer Betty Grable and singer Polly Bergen and for play folds and is forgotten, but in pictures we don't bury our dead.

"A bad picture goes on being shown in country after country, sinking up the world. It's cruel, cruel."

"Finally, when you think it is out of your system, your daughter sees it on television, and says, 'My father is an idiot. How could he have done such a thing.'" the young crowd, Bobby Darin. The galaxy worked itself into a slick, pleasant, if unmemorable variety hour. I loved George's anecdote about the good old days in show biz, but I am getting a little bored with that singing and violin-playing gag he and Jack have been perpetuating for so long.

NBC plans a pre-Christmas Project 20 program, "The Coming of Christ and His Ministry." The program, in color, will use what it calls a narrative and documentary approach to the subject, using some of the world's great art to tell the story.

Recommended tonight: "Music for a Summer Night," ABC, 7:30-8:30 p.m.—Puccini's "Tosca," set in Fascist Italy, with Heidi Krall and Walter Cassel. "Reckoning," CBS, 7:30-8:30—summer series of selected reruns from "Suspicion" and "Climax" shows of other seasons. "Happy," NBC, 9-9:30—premiere of new situation comedy as half of Perry Como's Summer replacement. "Tale," NBC, 9:30-10—premiere of new western series, adventures of a one-armed gunslinger.

Lots of Things Not on This Car

CHOTON, Conn. (AP)—A town court judge fined Robert Martin, 21, $12 and then asked him if his car had an engine and was worth as much as the fine. The car had no horn, no tailpipe, no front marker plate, no marker light, one headlight out, one brake light out, one parking light out, one tail light out, a loud muffler, and emergency brake "not too good."

It Was Only a Gag

NEW YORK (AP)—Peter W. Askew, 24, charged with falsely reporting a bomb aboard an aircraft, says it was all a gag. "I was only joking," he told a federal court jury Tuesday. He faces a maximum year in jail and $1,000 fine if convicted.

Unusual Dressing For Summer Salads

Nothing can make a porch or garden luncheon quite so elegant as a fruit salad plate. With the addition of a salad dressing from the freezer, even a picnic plate will take on a party air.

A variety of elegant and delicious whipped cream dressings can be kept on hand for quick serving. Fill ice cube trays with the dressing and freeze. Remove cubes from freezer trays and wrap in transparent saran. Place wrapped cubes in plastic freezer bag, label and store in the freezer to use as desired. To serve, unwrap and defrost. It takes only a very few minutes. A recipe for a dressing of this type is given here. It is perfectly delicious and you will want to try it.

Avocado Dressing

1 cup whipping cream, whipped
1/4 cup sifted confectioners' sugar
2 cups mashed avocado
2 teaspoons grated orange rind
2 tablespoons lemon juice

Blend ingredients together carefully. Freeze in ice cube tray. When frozen, wrap each cube in saran and place in freezer bag. When ready to serve, defrost and serve with or on fruit salads. This recipe makes about 2 1/2 cups dressing.

Still Variety of New Shows on Television

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer

The second part of NBC's "Sacco and Vanzetti Story" will be shown tonight (8:30-9:30). While the Reginald Rose drama drew mixed reviews and has fired up a new 30-year-old controversy, it is a show that people have been and will be talking about.

Also on NBC tonight 10 p.m. to conclusion, is the middleweight championship fight between Sugar Ray Robinson and Paul Pender from Boston.

On Saturday, CBS will televise the 90th running of the Belmont Stakes from New York (4:30-5 p.m.). NBC's World Wide 60 series (9:30-10:30 p.m.) will be devoted to politics and primary elections.

More Counties Lose Population

WASHINGTON (AP) — Preliminary census figures released yesterday added Sharp, Fulton, Stone and Izard counties to the list of Arkansas counties with a population loss since 1950.

Sharp had 6,209 residents in 1960, compared to 8,999 in 1950. Fulton dropped from 9,187 to 6,625. Stone from 7,062 to 6,260, and Izard from 9,953 to 6,601.

Raps States That Legalize Gambling

By GEORGE W. CORNELL

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP) — The American Baptists Convention says state governments that legalize gambling are "partners in deceit."

The denomination, in the final session Tuesday of its five-day annual convention, called the spread of gambling "a symptom of economic and cultural decay."

"When a government legalizes gambling for the sake of adding to its revenues under the pretext of easing the tax burden, it participates in a mass swindle," they said.

"It sets up a system whereby its people are induced to part with a far larger sum of money from which only a fraction replaces taxes, and the government becomes a partner in deceit."

In other resolutions, the 1 1/2-million-member denomination:

1. Set up procedures for an educational program on the tactics and dangers of communism.

2. Appealed for intensified government efforts to reach enforceable agreements for disarmament.

Teacher Fined for Paddling Pupil

MEMPHIS (AP) — Mrs. Betty Robinson, a second grade teacher, was fined $26 yesterday for paddling a girl pupil who chewed bubble gum in class.

Mrs. Robinson appeared in court on a warrant sworn out by the parents of the 7-year-old child, Peggy Watkins. The teacher admitted she fanned Peggy's seat 10 times with a wooden paddle after the girl disobeyed orders not to chew the gum in class.

Judge Willard Dixon, who last year upheld a principal's paddling of 14 boys who played hooky, ruled Mrs. Robinson's punishment was too severe.

and a permanent ban on nuclear testing.

3. Advocated increased educational, scientific and cultural exchanges between Communist countries and the United States to ease cold war tensions.

4. Favored a "new approach" in expanded U. S. technical assistance programs abroad based on "the interdependence between industrialized and underdeveloped countries."

5. Endorsed efforts for better birth control and food production methods to deal with the so-called population explosion.

Rockefeller, Ike Talk Over Politics

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller breakfasted with President Eisenhower and talked some politics with him today, but gave no indication he had changed his mind on any political issues.

Talking with reporters at the White House, the New York governor:

1. Said the chances are "pretty good" that Vice President Richard M. Nixon will get the Republican presidential nomination.
2. Reaffirmed his own willingness to accept a draft for the top place on the ticket, but again rejected with emphasis proposals that he accept the vice presidential nomination on a Nixon ticket.

Rockefeller said he and Eisenhower discussed "politics, international affairs, and the President's forthcoming trip to Japan" while they breakfasted alone in the White House dining room.

But, Rockefeller said in response to queries by a horde of newsmen, such questions as his own possible candidacy, the pressure on him to be Nixon's running mate, and a possible major role for him at the GOP convention in Chicago, never came up in the conversation.

Asked what political matters were discussed, Rockefeller replied the "would hope that the President would say something about that" since he—Rockefeller—felt the courtesies of the situation forbade him to tell.

Rockefeller said he would refuse any major role in the Republican convention "because he wanted no possible misunderstanding that he might be making himself available for the vice presidential nomination. The governor said he had done his best to clarify his position on the vice presidency but "apparently there are a few diehards who don't believe me."

"Do you think a Republican president will be elected in the fall?" a reporter asked.

Rockefeller paused briefly, smiled, and replied: "I'm always optimistic."

He added, that "the chances are pretty good, as things stand now, that the vice president will get the nomination."

The 7:45 a.m. meeting with Eisenhower was requested by Rockefeller.

The New York governor was gracious, shook hands with every reporter as he left the executive mansion, but gave them very little information.

A reporter asked:

"Do you consider yourself any more a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination than you did yesterday?"

Rockefeller: "No, I wasn't a candidate yesterday and I am not today."

As for the vice presidential nomination, Rockefeller said Eisenhower respected his declaration that he would not take the vice presidency, "and never mentioned it to me."

The governor said his decision to refuse the No. 2 position was based simply on his belief that he could be more useful as governor than in a standby position in Washington.

A reporter asked:

"Would you like to use this forum to announce your support of Vice President Nixon?"

Rockefeller paused, then remarked: "Well, I hadn't planned to." He smiled again and dropped the subject.

Eisenhower and Rockefeller spent an hour and a quarter over the breakfast table in the small dining room of the White House. Then they went to Eisenhower's office and talked for about 15 minutes more before Rockefeller left.

Rockefeller indicated their discussion of world affairs included the U2 spy plane controversy and Eisenhower's trip to the Far East.

Rockefeller said he was concerned over the demonstrations in Japan against the presidential visit but believes the President should make the decision on whether to go through with the planned visit.

"If he says he should go, I think he should," Rockefeller said. He added that Eisenhower said he will go, "and I admire and respect his decision."

Jewish Group Tells of Pending Probe

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two officials of the Jewish war veterans organization said today President Eisenhower has ordered an inquiry into what they called "neo-Nazi subversion" in this country.

Bernard Abrams, national commander of the veterans, and Joseph F. Barr, executive director, reported this to newsmen after a White House visit.

They said that Eisenhower, in their presence told a secretary to inform Atty. Gen. William F. Rogers that he wanted an investigation.

The two officials of the veterans' organization said their charges of neo-Nazi subversion dealt with the painting of swastikas on places of worship and desecration of cemetery. They did not mention any specific acts.

Happy Ending For Company Meals

Light and creamy Chocolate Mint Coffee Parfaits make a happy finish for a young modern's company meal. The dessert is made with new flavor, Chocolate Mint Pudding and Pie Filling, a quick and easy dessert idea that provides dividends in favor for pies, puddings and parfaits such as these.

The busy hostess will find these fine flavored parfaits are easy to make and glamorous to serve—easy because they require little cooking and are made from no-fail pudding and pie filling mix; glamorous because this color and texture combination in a parfait glass looks modern and up to the minute!

Chocolate Mint Coffee Parfaits
1 package chocolate mint pudding and pie filling mix
2 cups milk
Coffee Whipped Cream
Combine pudding mix and milk in saucepan. Cook and stir over medium heat until mixture comes to a full boil. Remove from heat. Pour into bowl. (To avoid surface film, place waxed paper directly on surface of hot pudding.) Chill. Before serving, beat slowly with egg beater. Prepare Coffee Whipped Cream. Spoon alternate layers of pudding and Coffee Whipped Cream in parfait glasses. Makes 6 servings.

Coffee Whipped Cream. Place 1/2 cup whipping cream, 1 tablespoon granulated or confectioner's sugar, 1/4 teaspoon vanilla and 1/2 to 1 teaspoon instant coffee in chilled bowl. Beat until cream holds its shape (do not overbeat). If desired, fold in 1/4 cup chopped toasted nuts. Makes 1 cup.

Violence in Strike of Plane Plant

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP)—Violence broke out on picket lines today as a strike against the United Aircraft Corp. spread to seven of the company's plants.

Police said strikers clashed in Windsor Locks when pickets attempted to bar a truck from entering the Hamilton Standard division plant there.

Strikers reportedly attacked policemen attempting to clear a path for the truck. Police used their clubs.

At North Haven earlier, strikers smashed two windshield wipers on autos of nonstrikers. Three policemen were injured slightly when they were struck by a nonunion worker's auto.

Some 3,000 production workers, members of two unions, were affected by the strike. The company employs about 57,000 in the state, including three other company plants not affected by the strike.

The walkouts began Tuesday at the Sikorsky plants in Stratford and Bridgeport. They spread today to Pratt & Whitney plants in North Haven, East Hartford and Manchester, and Hamilton Standard plants in Windsor Locks and Broad Brook.

Workers are represented by the United Auto Workers at the Sikorsky plants and at the Pratt & Whitney aircraft division plant in North Haven.

The International Assn. of Machinists represents workers at Hamilton Standard in Windsor Locks and Broad Brook.

Last Battleship
PORTSMOUTH, England (AP)—Britain's last battleship, the 44,500-ton Vanguard, is headed for the scrap pile. Completed in 1946, it cost $2.80 a week to keep her afloat and in top shape. The government decided that was too much.

Imaginary Interview of Stars

By BOB THOMAS

AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Some times, when prowling lonely studio streets hunting stars who aren't there, you start believing you hear imaginary interviews.

Such as what might happen if Tennessee Ernie should meet up with Tennessee Williams?

Ernie: Hi there little feller. Why so blue? You look like you'd been ridden hard and put away wet.

Williams: Please, none of your bucolic rambles. Don't you know that life is a fragile bird soaring to the sun and the vision of its own destruction.

Ernie: I don't see nothin' to be hard-mouthed about, Cussin' at the plover won't get the furrows dug.

Williams: You are an anachronism, sowing your homilies in a sterile soil. Nothing will grow, not even your sunflowers of optimism. The era does not bring fecundity.

Ernie: Been havin' trouble with your crops, huh?

Williams: Sir, I am not a farmer. I am a writer.

Ernie: What do you write—the farm news or the sportin' games?

Williams: I write plays and scenarios. Have you seen "Cat on a Hot Tin Roof" or "Suddenly Last Summer"?

Ernie: I missed that first one and I'm sorry. I like them animal pictures. I saw that other one, though. I liked that scene where them tykes were a-chawin' on that feller Sebastian. Reminded me of when Uncle Chad fell in the hog sty at feedin' time.

Williams: Obviously you missed the symbolism. Might I ask what you do?

Ernie: I'm a pea picker.

Williams: Ah, well, silly questions beget silly answers.

Ernie: What did you say your name was?

Williams: Tennessee Williams.

Ernie: You wouldn't josh me, would you? Where was you born?

Williams: Columbus, Mississippi.

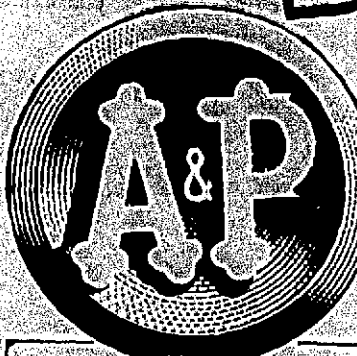

Ernie: Like you say—silly questions. I gotta go now and dig some bait.

Visit to Oslo

OSLO (AP)—British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan arrived in Oslo today for a four-day visit and talks to find ways to avoid an all-out trade war between Western Europe's two rival economic blocs. Both countries are members of the "Outer Seven" free trade area, organized as a counter to the six-nation "Common Market."

Buy Coleman Milk-

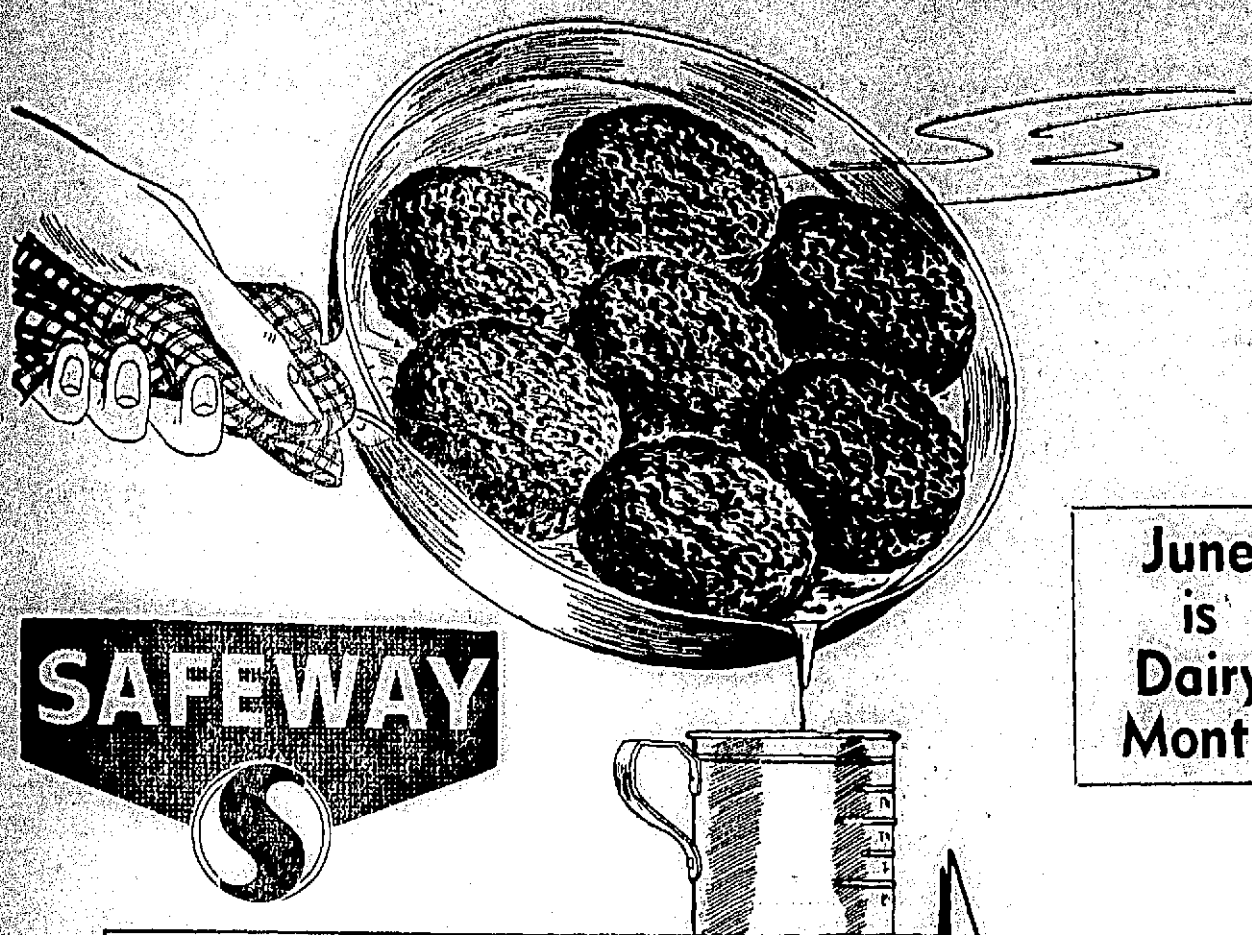

COLEMAN DAIRY trades with local farmers. Most local milk producers belong to the Central Arkansas Milk Producers Association. Farmers all over Arkansas have joined together into this one marketing association (CAMPA) which sells its members milk to the processing plants out over the state.

The price farmers receive for their milk is determined by the usage that the processing plant has for the milk. For example, milk sold as a fluid milk brings the farmer a higher price than milk that is used to manufacture ice cream or cottage cheese. Therefore there is really no way to determine how one individual farmer's milk is used each day. The fair method for all farmers is for their association to sell their milk and in turn pay a blended price to all members.

Coleman Dairy purchases all of its milk through the Central Arkansas Milk Producers Association. You help your local farmers when you buy Coleman Dairy products.
